Transportation Metro (subway) Panama

RapidPass Card

This RapidPass card allows the use of Metrobuses, the Metro (subway) and the services of the Albbrook terminal (turnstiles in waiting rooms in the terminal and to terminal bathrooms)

It can only be purchased at the Albbrook bus terminal (the central station of Panama) and costs 2 USD.

It can only be purchased at:

- Customer service points.
- Automatic machines with this sign above them: “adquiere tu tarjeta aquí”. These machines do not give change. Better have the exact amount at hand. The RapidPass is also recharged at these machines (some only accept USD bills and others also have the coins option, referring to the Marti-dollar coin)

Machines that accept coins

Marti-dollar coins = 1 USD

The RapidPass can also be recharged at the automatic machines at any metro station and at other locations that have rapid payment machines (e.g. in some supermarkets).

How to use the RapidPass card?

- At the entrance of each bus and or the subway halls are turnstiles with a card reader.
- You have to touch the reader with your card.
- The reader will deduct the price of the trip from the funds on our card and release the turnstile, allowing you to pass.
- When leaving the bus or a metro station, you have to hold the card to the exit reader.
- Holding the card to the exit reader is not necessary on the buses, unless you need to make a transfer and take another bus. This way you can take advantage of a free transfer.

The rates for public transportation are as follows:

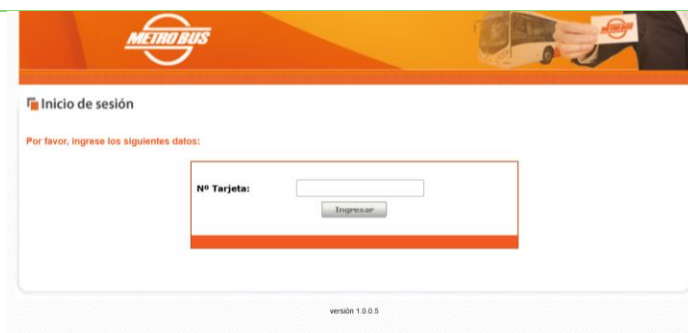

0.75 USD	for express bus routes through the freeway toll roads (indicated as /autopista/corredor/ on the bus sign).
0.25 USD	for regular bus routes (Gamboa route, Forestal route and most metro buses in Panama City).
0.35 USD	for the metro (subway)

Rates for Albrook terminal services:

- 0.10 USD on turnstiles.
- 0.25 USD terminal restrooms

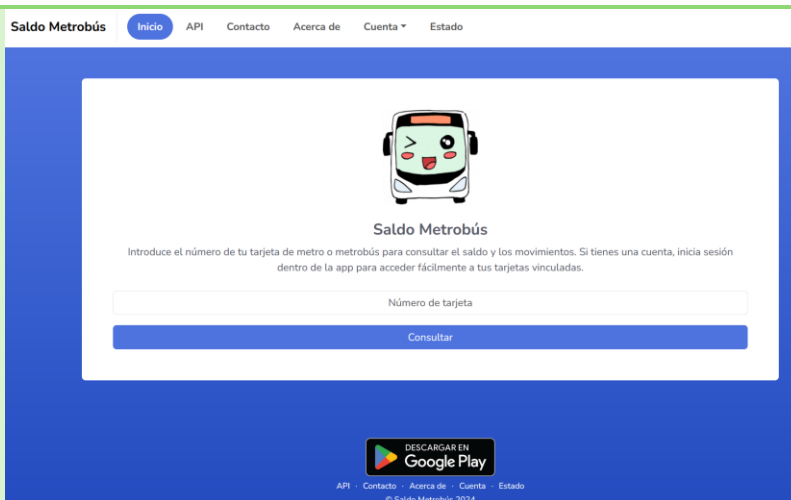

A single card can be used for multiple passengers. You just have to pass the card once for each person, releasing the turnstile so each individual person can enter.

You can check the card balance online by entering the card number here:
